Subject: RE: Phase III monitoring and maintenance & comments document

Patrick, we added the specific wording into this paragraph as you mentioned in your earlier email.

Since this is a discussion for the Unified Command to agree upon, I will only add my input into this issue as I understand it.

My recollection was that SB County specific wanted that wording to be included.

While any lead or trustee agency can require the responsible party to conduct additional actions, they have to show that these requirements are "pursuant to applicable laws".

The fact that this wording was requested to be put into any document really frustrates me. If there is an entity which has regulations/jurisdiction/authority to require "additional cleanup and/or additional actions" of the RP, they should already be a part of this process and be working within the structure under the Unified Command.

I await the discussions and decisions of this Unified Command. If there are any changes necessary to this document, please advise.

Thanks, Tom

This version still contains the final “reopener” paragraph that we pushed back against earlier in the week. If we sign on to a plan that says any non UC member - i.e. trustee can require any additional cleanup of beaches, rocks, etc without regard to previously UC-approved endpoints, we’re back at square 1.

Subject: Phase III monitoring and maintenance & comments document

UC, we have received and incorporated comments from all of the identified stakeholders. The attached Phase III monitoring and maintenance document (dated 17 July) is for your consideration and ideally your signatures. To make this review easier, I have included two versions of the Phase III document (one with changes highlighted and one without).

Also attached is the Phase III comments document where all written comments that have been provided to me were captured. Responses were developed to address the comments provided. In some cases no comments were necessary. But, there were many comments which led to changes to the Phase III monitoring and maintenance document.

If you have any questions, please let me know.

Thanks, Tom
